Dear Praying friends,

I arrived in Kyrgyzstan on March 18th and have had a blessed 3 weeks so far. It's usually about this time during a trip that I start preparing to come home. But this time, I'm planning on staying for at least another month. I have been teaching in the local church here each week and as always, enjoying the fellowship around God's Word. My first Sunday here was a communion service, so I taught on the symbolism of the Lord's supper as it relates to passover. Afterwards, The local Pastor here, Brother Nurlan asked me to do a series on the book of Revelation. So we will be digging into that for the next several weeks. It has already generated some lively discussions and reminded me afresh of the need for consistent Bible teaching here. I have been concerned about teaching on such a complex topic without a translator but it seems that the Lord has provided that need. A young college student who has recently been saved has volunteered to help translate for me. He introduced himself by saying "Hi My name is Muhammed, I know thats funny name for a Christian." I enjoyed explaining to him that MHMD basically means the blessed one in Hebrew and is used throughout the Old Testament in prophecies about Jesus. Pray for Muhammed that the Lord would bless his efforts as he grows in his faith and takes on this difficult task.

The door seems to be opening for me to receive a long term visa that will allow me to live here full time. There is a local tour company here which is owned by a Christian. They have offered to sponsor my visa in exchange for helping them set up and manage their website. Pray with me that all of this will be resolved by the time I return home next month. In addition to this, Several locals have offered to help me get my English classes started. This will also open more doors for me to be able to relocate as well as provide additional ministry opportunities. Pray with me that the Lord would give me the strength to accomplish all that He has for me to do here and continue to open doors for me.to serve Him in this spiritually dark place.

Thank you all for praying for me and a special thank you to those who are financially supporting this work. Your investment is an investment in eternity. For those who would feel led to help while I am here, this email address: capmskg@gmail.com is registered with Zelle and PayPal. There are also several ways to give by check if the Lord so leads. Reply to this email for details.

Thank you again for praying and Praise the Lord for all He has already done.
